INVESTMENT OPTIONS GUIDE

Investment Options

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a mutual fund prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Read it carefully.

Here is a list of investment options for the Rabbis and Cantors Retirement Plan. For up-to-date performance information and other fund specifics, go to www.netbenefits.com/atwork.

Description of Investment Options

Calvert Balanced Fund Class I

VRS Code: 841092

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.65% as of 02/01/2026

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to achieve a competitive total return through an actively managed portfolio of stocks, bonds, and money market instruments which offer income and capital growth opportunity.

Fund Strategy: Under normal market conditions, the fund invests between 50% and 75% of its net assets in equity securities and between 25% and 50% of its net assets in fixed-income securities. Stock investments are primarily common stock of large-cap companies. Fixed-income investments are primarily a wide variety of investment grade debt securities.

Fund Risk: Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. The Fund's sustainable investment strategy will affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, industries, sectors, regions and countries and could cause the fund to sell or avoid securities that subsequently perform well. In addition, securities that do not meet the sustainable investing criteria could outperform those that do. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 02/26/1999. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 10/21/1982, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself.

Calvert Green Bond Fund Class I

VRS Code: 886863

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.53% as of 02/01/2026

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to maximize income, to the extent consistent with preservation of capital, primarily through investment in bonds.

Fund Strategy: Under normal circumstances, the fund invests at least 80% of its net assets (including borrowings for investment purposes) in "green" bonds. Bonds include debt securities of any maturity. It typically invests at least 65% of its net assets in investment grade debt securities, as assessed at the time of purchase.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. The Fund's sustainable investment strategy will affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, industries, sectors, regions and countries and could cause the fund to sell or avoid securities that subsequently perform well. In addition, securities that do not meet the sustainable investing criteria could outperform those that do. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Calvert International Responsible Index Fund Class I

VRS Code: 867887

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.38% as of 02/01/2026

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of the Calvert International Responsible Index.

Fund Strategy: The fund will normally invest at least 95% of its net assets, including borrowings for investment purposes, in securities contained in the index. The index measures the investment return of stocks issued by companies that are located in countries (other than the U.S.) with developed markets.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. The Fund's sustainable investment strategy will affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, industries, sectors, regions and countries and could cause the fund to sell or avoid securities that subsequently perform well. In addition, securities that do not meet the sustainable investing criteria could outperform those that do. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

Calvert US Large Cap Core Responsible Index Fund Class I

VRS Code: 841086

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.35% as of 02/01/2026

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of the Calvert US Large-Cap Core Responsible Index, which measures the investment return of large-capitalization stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 95% of its net assets, including borrowings for investment purposes, in securities contained in the index. The index is composed of the common stocks of large companies that operate their businesses in a manner consistent with the Calvert Principles for Responsible Investment.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. The Fund's sustainable investment strategy will affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, industries, sectors, regions and countries and could cause the fund to sell or avoid securities that subsequently perform well. In addition, securities that do not meet the sustainable investing criteria could outperform those that do. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Calvert U.S. Large Cap Core Responsible Index is composed of companies that operate their businesses in a manner that is consistent with Calvert's responsible investment principles and are selected from the universe of companies included in the S-Network U.S. Equity Large Cap 1000 Index. ## Fidelity Freedom® 2010 Fund Class K

VRS Code: 003021

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.42% as of 05/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who have retired or expect to retire in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Retirement Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund may merge with the Freedom Retirement Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy for the fund is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, the Adviser will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in or very near retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Footnotes:

During the fourth quarter of 2025, the Adviser will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option that gradually becomes more conservative over time and who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Index Retirement Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund may merge with the Freedom Index Retirement Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy for the fund is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, the Adviser will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation.

Fund Risk: The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Index Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked, and foreign securities. The funds are subject to the risks associated with investing in a passively managed underlying fund in which the passively managed underlying fund's performance could be lower than an actively managed fund that shifts its portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fidelity Freedom® Index 2060 Fund Institutional Premium Class

VRS Code: 002776

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.08% as of 05/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who have retired or expect to retire in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds), each of which (excluding any money market fund) seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Index Retirement Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund may merge with the Freedom Index Retirement Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy for the fund is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, the Adviser will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation.

Fund Risk: The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Index Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked, and foreign securities. The funds are subject to the risks associated with investing in a passively managed underlying fund in which the passively managed underlying fund's performance could be lower than an actively managed fund that shifts its portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fidelity Freedom® Index Retirement Fund Institutional Premium Class

VRS Code: 002764

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.08% as of 05/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds), each of which (excluding any money market fund) seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable "neutral" asset allocation strategy. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy (approximately 17% in U.S. equity funds, 11% in international equity funds, 2% in commodity funds, 37% in U.S. investment grade bond funds, 5% in international bond funds, 2% in long-term treasury bond funds, 21% in short-term inflation-protected bond funds, and 6% in short-term funds; allocations do not add to 100% due to rounding) is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. The Adviser may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to risks resulting from the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option and looking primarily for the potential for income and, secondarily, for share-price appreciation.

Fidelity Freedom® Retirement Fund Class K

VRS Code: 003019

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.42% as of 05/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable "neutral" asset allocation strategy. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy (approximately 17% in U.S. equity funds, 11% in international equity funds, 2% in commodity funds, 37% in U.S. investment grade bond funds, 5% in international bond funds, 2% in long-term treasury bond funds, 21% in short-term inflation-protected bond funds, and 6% in short-term funds; allocations do not add to 100% due to rounding) is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. The Adviser may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to risks resulting from the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Fidelity® International Capital Appreciation Fund*VRS Code: 007615Gross Expense Ratio: 0.83% as of 12/30/2025Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities, including securities of issuers located in emerging markets. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- On July 22, 2025, an initial offering of Fidelity International Capital Appreciation Fund took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of Fidelity Advisor International Capital Appreciation Fund Class I. Fidelity International Capital Appreciation Fund would have substantially similar annual returns to Class I because the classes are invested in the same portfolio of securities. Fidelity International Capital Appreciation Fund's returns would differ from Class I's returns only to the extent that the classes do not have the same expenses.

Fidelity® Select Industrials Portfolio*VRS Code: 009108Gross Expense Ratio: 0.68% as of 10/09/2025Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the research, development, manufacture, distribution, supply, or sale of industrial products, services, or equipment. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Industrials industries can be significantly affected by general economic trends, changes in consumer sentiment and spending, commodity prices, legislation, government regulation and spending, import controls, and worldwide competition, and can be subject to liability for environmental damage, depletion of resources, and mandated expenditures for safety and pollution control. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- On October 14, 2025, an initial offering of Select Industrials Portfolio took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of Fidelity Advisor Industrials Fund - Class I. Select Industrials Portfolio would have substantially similar annual returns to Class I because the classes are invested in the same portfolio of securities. Select Industrials Portfolio's returns would differ from Class I's returns only to the extent that the classes do not have the same expenses.

Fidelity® 500 Index Fund*VRS Code: 002328Gross Expense Ratio: 0.015% as of 04/29/2025Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return (i.e., the combination of capital changes and income) performance of common stocks publicly traded in the United States.Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the S&P 500 Index, which broadly represents the performance of common stocks publicly traded in the United States. The fund may operate as a non-diversified fund, as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act), to the approximate extent the Index is non-diversified. The fund may therefore operate as non-diversified solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the Index.Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Balanced Fund*VRS Code: 000304Gross Expense Ratio: 0.46% as of 10/30/2025Fund Objective: Seeks both income and capital growth.Fund Strategy: Investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Investing at least 25% of total assets in fixed-income senior securities (including debt securities and preferred stock.) Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Fidelity® Blue Chip Growth Fund

VRS Code: 000312

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.61% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital over the long term.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in blue chip growth companies. Blue chip companies are companies that, in the Adviser's view, are well-known, well-established and well-capitalized, which, for purposes of this fund, are companies with a higher market capitalization than the lowest capitalized company in any of the S&P 500 Index, Russell 1000 Index, or Dow Jones Industrial Average. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: The value of equity securities fluctuates in response to issuer, political, market, and economic developments. In the short term, equity prices can fluctuate dramatically in response to these developments. Different parts of the market and different types of equity securities can react differently to these developments. For example, 'growth' stocks can react differently from 'value' stocks. Foreign securities, foreign currencies, and securities issued by U.S. entities with substantial foreign operations can involve additional risks. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of issuers tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Blue Chip Value Fund

VRS Code: 001271

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.56% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in blue chip value companies. Blue chip companies are companies that, in the Adviser's view, are well-known, well-established and well-capitalized, which, for purposes of this fund, are companies with a higher market capitalization than the lowest capitalized company in any of the S&P 500 Index, Russell 1000 Index, or Dow Jones Industrial Average. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with the volatility of large-cap stocks and value-style investments.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Capital & Income Fund*VRS Code: 000038Gross Expense Ratio: 0.92% as of 06/28/2025Fund Objective: Seeks to provide a combination of income and capital growth.Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in a combination of debt securities and income-producing equity securities. Investing in equity and debt securities, including defaulted securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition.Fund Risk: Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Fidelity® Conservative Income Bond Fund

VRS Code: 002268

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.3% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to obtain a high level of current income consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in U.S. dollar-denominated money market and high quality investment-grade debt securities of all types, and repurchase agreements for those securities. Potentially entering into reverse repurchase agreements. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. 3-6 Month Treasury Bill Index. Normally investing in securities with a maximum maturity of four years. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of one year or less. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Investing more than 25% of total assets in the financial services industries. Investing in both domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities can be more volatile than U.S. markets due to increased risks of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments. Changes in government regulation, interest rates and economic downturns can have a significant effect on issuers in the financial services sector, including the price of their securities or their ability to meet their payment obligations. Prepayment of principal prior to a security's maturity can cause greater price volatility if interest rates change. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The fund is not a money market fund and will have a fluctuating NAV.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- Fidelity is reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® Contrafund®

VRS Code: 000022

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.63% as of 03/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in securities of companies whose value FMR believes is not fully recognized by the public. Investing in either 'growth' stocks or 'value' stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to the activities of individual companies, and general market and economic conditions. Investments in foreign securities involve greater risk than U.S. investments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Convertible Securities Fund

VRS Code: 000308

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.64% as of 01/29/2026

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in convertible securities. Convertible securities are bonds, preferred stocks, and other securities that pay interest or dividends and are convertible into common stocks or its equivalent value. Potentially investing in other types of securities, including common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement core bond holdings with an investment that has both bond and stock characteristics and who can accept more volatility than is generally expected with conservative bond funds.
- Someone who wants an investment that seeks the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who can accept the volatility of the stock and bond markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Corporate Bond Fund

VRS Code: 002208

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in corporate bonds and other corporate debt securities and repurchase agreements for those securities. Normally investing primarily in investment-grade corporate debt securities and repurchase agreements for those securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. Credit Bond Index. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Investing in lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's Central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and bond funds entail interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Bond funds also entail the risk of issuer or counterparty default, issuer credit risk, and inflation risk. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. Investments in mortgage securities are subject to the risk that principal will be repaid prior to maturity. As a result, when interest rates decline, gains may be reduced, and when interest rates rise, losses may be greater. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a potentially more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg U.S. Credit Index is comprised of a large universe of bonds issued by industrial utility and financial companies which have a minimum ratings of Baa by Moody's Investors Service, BBB by Standard and Poor's Ratings Group or, in the case of bank bonds not rated by either of the previously mentioned services, BBB by Fitch Ratings.

Fidelity® Disciplined Equity Fund

VRS Code: 000315

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.66% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Diversified International Fund

VRS Code: 000325

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.66% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Dividend Growth Fund

VRS Code: 000330

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.88% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities of dividend growth companies. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Emerging Asia Fund

VRS Code: 000351

Gross Expense Ratio: 1.03% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of Asian emerging market issuers and other investments that are tied economically to Asian emerging markets. Asian countries with emerging markets includes Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, South Korea, Malaysia, the Philippines, the People's Republic of China, Singapore, Taiwan, and Thailand. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. The risks are particularly significant for funds that focus on a single country or region.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with an international investment focused on a specific country or region.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with concentrated investments in a specific country or region.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

---

Fidelity® Emerging Markets Discovery Fund

VRS Code: 002374

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.97% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Focus on investing in smaller capitalization companies exposed to secular growth trends of ascendant emerging market domestic economies. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets (countries that have an emerging stock market as defined by MSCI, countries or markets with low- to middle-income economies as classified by the World Bank, and other countries or markets with similar emerging characteristics) and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Focusing investments in small- and medium-sized companies, but also may invest substantially in larger companies. Allocating investments across different emerging market countries. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing in emerging markets.
- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments and/or international investments in developed countries with investments in developing countries, which can behave differently.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Emerging Markets Fund

VRS Code: 000322

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.86% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing in emerging markets.
- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments and/or international investments in developed countries with investments in developing countries, which can behave differently.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Emerging Markets Index Fund

VRS Code: 002344

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.075% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of emerging stock markets.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI Emerging Markets Index and in depository receipts representing securities included in the index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings ratio, price/book ratio, earnings growth, country weightings, and the effect of foreign taxes to attempt to replicate the returns of the MSCI Emerging Markets Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing in emerging markets.
- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments and/or international investments in developed countries with investments in developing countries, which can behave differently.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The MSCI emerging Markets Index is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the investable equity market performance for global investors of emerging markets.

Fidelity® Environment and Alternative Energy Fund

VRS Code: 000516

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in business activities related to alternative and renewable energy, energy efficiency, pollution control, water infrastructure, waste and recycling technologies, or other environmental support services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Employing sustainable investing exclusion criteria to avoid investments in issuers that are directly engaged in, and/or derive significant revenue from, certain industries. At present, these include: civilian semi-automatic firearms; tobacco production, or bonds issued against the proceeds of tobacco settlements; for-profit prisons; controversial weapons (e.g. cluster munitions, land mines, biological/chemical weapons, blinding lasers, and incendiary weapons); and thermal coal production and/or mining.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Application of FMR's ESG ratings process and/or its sustainable investing exclusion criteria may affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, sectors, regions, and countries and may affect the fund's performance depending on whether certain investments are in or out of favor. This process may result in the fund forgoing opportunities to buy certain securities when it might otherwise be advantageous to do so, or selling securities for ESG reasons when it might be otherwise disadvantageous for it to do so. Sector funds can be more volatile because of their narrow concentration in a specific industry. The environment and alternative energy industries can be significantly affected by government regulations and subsidies, changing supply and demand for traditional energy sources, and availability of funding for remedial cleanup efforts or development of new technologies, and can be subject to risks associated with hazardous materials. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Prior to July 1, 2010, the fund was named Fidelity Select Environmental Portfolio, operated under certain different investment policies, and compared its performance to a different benchmark. The fund's historical performance may not represent its current investment policies.

Fidelity® Equity Dividend Income Fund

VRS Code: 000319

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.53% as of 01/29/2026

Fund Objective: Seeks a yield from dividend and interest income which exceeds the composite dividend yield on securities comprising the S&P 500 Index. In addition, consistent with the primary objective of obtaining dividend and interest income, the fund will consider the potential for achieving capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in income-producing equity securities that pay current dividends. Potentially investing in other types of equity securities and debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with the volatility of large-cap stocks and value-style investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- S&P 500 Index is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 common stocks chosen for market size, liquidity, and industry group representation to represent U.S. equity performance.

Fidelity® Equity-Income Fund

VRS Code: 000023

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.53% as of 04/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks reasonable income. In pursuing this objective, the fund will also consider the potential for capital appreciation. The fund seeks a yield for its shareholders that exceeds the yield on the securities comprising the S&P 500 Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in income-producing equity securities. Potentially investing in other types of equity securities and debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments. Potentially using covered call options as tools in managing the fund's assets. The Adviser's emphasis on income-producing equity securities tends to lead to investments in large cap "value" stocks. However, the Adviser is not constrained by any particular investment style.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Value stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole. They can remain undervalued by the market for long periods of time.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with the volatility of large-cap stocks and value-style investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Europe Fund

VRS Code: 000301

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.77% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital over the long term.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of European issuers and other investments that are tied economically to Europe. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. The risks are particularly significant for funds that focus on a single country or region.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with an international investment focused on a specific country or region.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with concentrated investments in a specific country or region.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

---

Fidelity® Extended Market Index Fund

VRS Code: 002365

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.035% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return stocks of mid- to small-capitalization United States companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the Dow Jones U.S. Completion Total Stock Market Index, which represents the performance of stocks of mid- to small-capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well known companies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Dow Jones U.S. Completion Total Stock Market Index is an unmanaged index that represents all U.S. equity issues with readily available prices, excluding components of the S&P 500.
- Returns prior to September 8, 2011 are those of the Premium Class and reflect the Premium Class' expense ratio. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Floating Rate High Income Fund

VRS Code: 000814

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.73% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in a combination of below investment grade floating rate loans and floating rate loans and floating rate securities of all types. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Investing in money market and investment grade debt securities, and repurchase agreements. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Floating rate loans may not be fully collateralized and therefore may decline significantly in value. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a fixed-income fund that generally allows for more adjustments to income based on changing interest rates than traditional bond funds generally do.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Initial offering of the Fidelity® Floating Rate High Income Fund took place on September 19, 2002. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of the Fidelity Advisor® Floating Rate High Income Fund - Institutional Class. Had Fidelity® Floating Rate High Income Fund expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Focused High Income Fund

VRS Code: 001366

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.76% as of 06/28/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of income. The fund may also seek capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in below investment grade debt securities. Normally investing primarily in income producing debt securities, preferred stocks, and convertible securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Normally investing primarily in securities rated BB by S&P, Ba by Moody's, comparably rated by at least one nationally recognized credit rating agency, or, if unrated, considered by FMR to be of comparable quality. Potentially investing in securities that have a higher or lower credit quality. Potentially investing in non-income producing securities, including defaulted securities and common stocks. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Focused Stock Fund

VRS Code: 000333

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of its assets in stocks. Normally investing in 30-80 stocks. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Fidelity® Founders Fund

VRS Code: 003336

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.77% as of 06/28/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of founder-involved companies. The Adviser considers a number of factors in determining whether a company is a founder-involved company, including whether a founder or founder family member is a member of the senior management team or the company's board of directors at the time of investment or within the past five years and a founder's personal or family share ownership in the company. Whether a company is a founder-involved company can be determined under any of these factors. Using quantitative analysis to evaluate growth potential, valuation, liquidity, and investment risk, along with fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition, its industry position, and market and economic conditions to select investments. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Investing in securities of domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Securities selected using quantitative analysis can perform differently from the market as a whole. The Adviser's applications of the founder-involved strategy may not achieve its intended results and the fund could underperform the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

---

Fidelity® Fund

VRS Code: 000003

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.42% as of 08/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

---

Fidelity® Global Commodity Stock Fund

VRS Code: 002120

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.85% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in stocks of commodities companies. Commodities companies are those principally engaged in the energy, metals, and agriculture group of industries. Investing in securities issued throughout the world. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Allocating investments across different countries and regions. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The energy, metals, and agriculture industries can be significantly affected by commodity prices and consumption, world events, import and export controls, worldwide competition, government regulations, and economic conditions. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Global Equity Income Fund

VRS Code: 002406

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.91% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks reasonable income. In pursuing this objective, the fund will also consider the potential for capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in securities issued throughout the world. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities. Normally investing primarily in income-producing equity securities. Seeking to exceed the yield on the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) Index. Potentially investing in other types of equity securities and debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities. Allocating investments across different countries and regions. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment that invests in both domestic and international markets.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and the generally higher degree of risk associated with international investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The MSCI ACWI Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets. ## Fidelity® Global ex U.S. Index Fund

VRS Code: 002348

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.055% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of foreign developed and emerging stock markets.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) ex USA Index and in depository receipts representing securities included in the index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings ratio, price/book ratio, earnings growth, country weightings, and the effect of foreign taxes to attempt to replicate the returns of the MSCI ACWI ex USA Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The MSCI All Country World Ex-US Index is a recognized benchmark of non-U.S. stock markets. It is an unmanaged market value-weighted index composed of a sample of companies representative of the market structure of 49 countries and includes reinvestment of all dividends. The MSCI AC World Ex-US Index, when including or excluding securities, takes into account any limitations that an international investor would experience when investing directly in such securities. The index contains both developed and emerging market securities.

Fidelity® GNMA Fund

VRS Code: 000015

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income consistent with prudent investment risk. In seeking current income, the fund may also consider the potential for capital gain.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in Ginnie Mae's and repurchase agreements for Ginnie Maes. Investing in other U.S. Government securities and instruments related to U.S. Government securities. Investing in U.S. Government securities issued by entities that are chartered or sponsored by Congress but whose securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg GNMA Index. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a potentially more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Government Cash Reserves

VRS Code: 000055

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.37% as of 01/29/2026

Fund Objective: Seeks as high a level of current income as is consistent with the preservation of capital and liquidity.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 99.5% of total assets in cash, U.S. Government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash or government securities). Investing in U.S. Government securities issued by entities that are chartered or sponsored by Congress but whose securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Investing in compliance with industry-standard regulatory requirements for money market funds for the quality, maturity, liquidity and diversification of investments. In addition the Adviser normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in U.S. Government securities and repurchase agreements for those securities.

Fund Risk: You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not a bank account and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Fidelity Investments and its affiliates, the fund's sponsor, are not required to reimburse money market funds for losses, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time, including during periods of market stress. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer or a provider of credit support or a maturity-shortening structure for a security can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. Fidelity's government and U.S. Treasury money market funds will not impose a fee upon the sale of your shares.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Growth & Income Portfolio

VRS Code: 000027

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.53% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in a combination of securities of growth companies and income-producing securities. Normally investing a majority of assets in common stocks with a focus on those that pay current dividends and show potential for capital appreciation. Potentially investing in bonds, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds), as well as stocks that are not currently paying dividends, but offer prospects for future income or capital appreciation. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Growth Discovery Fund

VRS Code: 000339

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.62% as of 08/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of growth companies. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. "Growth" stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of issuers tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Growth Strategies Fund

VRS Code: 000324

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 01/29/2026

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of growth companies. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Focusing investments in medium-sized companies, but may also invest substantially in larger or smaller companies. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to the activities of individual companies, general market, and economic conditions. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies may be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign investments involve greater risks than those of U.S. investments. "Growth" stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

---

Fidelity® High Income Fund

VRS Code: 000455

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.8% as of 06/28/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income. Growth of capital may also be considered.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in below investment grade debt securities. Normally investing primarily in income-producing debt securities, preferred stocks, and convertible securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Potentially investing in non-income producing securities, including defaulted securities and common stocks. Using the credit quality distribution of an index representing the overall high yield bond market, currently the ICE BofA US High Yield Constrained Index, as a guide in structuring the fund's credit quality composition. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: The fund's yield and share price change daily and are based on changes in interest rates and market conditions, and in response to other economic, political, or financial developments. Foreign markets, particularly emerging markets can be more volatile than the U.S. market due to increased risks of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments and can perform differently from the U.S. market. In general, bond prices rise when interest rates fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities which generally offer higher yields, and carry more risk. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The ICE BofAML US High Yield/US High Yield Constrained Blend is an unmanaged market value-weighted index of all domestic and Yankee high-yield bonds, including deferred interest bonds and payment-in-kind securities. Issues included in the index have maturities of one year or more and have a credit rating lower than BBB-/Baa3, but are not in default. The Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield Master II Constrained Index limits any individual issuer to a maximum of 2% benchmark exposure. Returns shown for the Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield Master II Constrained Index for periods prior to December 31, 1996 (its inception date) are returns of the Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield Master II Index.

Fidelity® Inflation-Protected Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 002418

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.05% as of 03/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of the inflation-protected sector of the United States Treasury market.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in inflation-protected debt securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) Index. The index is a market value-weighted index that measures the performance of inflation-protected securities issued by the U.S. Treasury. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Increases in real interest rates can cause the price of inflation-protected debt securities to decrease. Interest payments on inflation-protected debt securities can be unpredictable. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income and who can tolerate more frequent changes in the size of income distributions than those usually found with more conservative bond funds.
- Someone who is seeking to supplement his or her core fixed-income holdings with a bond investment that is tied to changes in inflation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg U.S. TIPS Index is an unmanaged index designed to represent securities that protect against adverse inflation and provide a minimum level of real return. To be included in this index, bonds must have cash flows linked to an inflation index, be sovereign issues denominated in U.S. currency, and have more than one year to maturity, and, as a portion of the index, total a minimum amount outstanding of 100 million U.S. dollars.
- Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.

Fidelity® Intermediate Bond Fund

VRS Code: 000032

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in investment-grade debt securities (those of medium and high quality) of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Government/Credit Bond Index. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity between three and 10 years. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Investing in lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's Central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Government/Credit Bond Index is a market value-weighted index of investment-grade fixed-rate debt securities with maturities from one up to (but not including) ten years from the U.S. Treasury, U.S. Government-Related, and U.S. Corporate Indices.

Fidelity® Intermediate Government Income Fund

VRS Code: 000452

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income as is consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in U.S. Government securities and repurchase agreements for those securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Government Bond Index. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of three to 10 years. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's Central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- The Bloomberg Intermediate Government Bond Index is an unmanaged market value-weighted index for government fixed-rate debt issues with maturities between one and ten years. Issues include all public obligations of the U.S. Treasury and U.S. Government agencies and quasi-federal corporations, and corporate debt guaranteed by the U.S. Government.

Fidelity® Intermediate Treasury Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 003045

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.03% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg 5-10 Year U.S. Treasury Bond Index. The index is a market value-weighted index of investment-grade fixed-rate public obligations of the U.S. Treasury with maturities between five and ten years. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of five to 10 years, consistent with that of the index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. 5-10 Year Treasury Bond Index using a smaller number of securities.

Fund Risk: Bond funds contain interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall); the risk of issuer default; and inflation risk. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Fidelity® International Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 004506

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.06% as of 03/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg Global Aggregate ex USD ex EM Float Adjusted RIC Diversified Index (USD Hedged), which is a multi-currency benchmark that includes fixed-rate treasury, government-related, corporate and securitized bonds from developed markets issuers while excluding USD denominated debt. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate ex USD ex EM Float Adjusted RIC Diversified Index (USD Hedged) using a smaller number of securities. Hedging the fund's foreign currency exposures utilizing forward foreign currency exchange contracts. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. Although a forward foreign currency exchange contract is used to reduce or hedge a fund's exposure to changes in the value of the currency, suitable hedging transactions may not be available in all circumstances, may not be successful, and may eliminate any chance for the fund to benefit from favorable fluctuations in relevant foreign currencies. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with international bond investments and who can tolerate the greater risks associated with foreign investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg Global Aggregate ex USD ex EM Float Adjusted RIC Diversified Index (Hedged USD) is a customized subset of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index, a measure of global investment grade debt. This multi-currency benchmark includes fixed-rate treasury, government-related, corporate and securitized bonds from developed markets issuers while excluding USD denominated debt. The index applies a custom capping methodology and float adjustments. The index is hedged in USD.
- Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.

Fidelity® International Discovery Fund

VRS Code: 000305

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.66% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Fidelity® International Real Estate Fund

VRS Code: 001368

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.88% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings and is comfortable with the greater risk typically associated with investments tied to the value of holding, managing, and developing real estate.
- Someone who is willing to accept the lower diversification and potentially higher risk of investments concentrated in the real estate industry.

Fidelity® Investment Grade Bond Fund

VRS Code: 000026

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in investment-grade debt securities (those of medium and high quality) of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Investing in lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's Central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fidelity® Large Cap Growth Index Fund

VRS Code: 002826

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.035% as of 06/28/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of large capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell 1000 Growth Index, which is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the large-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity market. Effective March 24, 2025, the Russell 1000 Growth Index applies a capping methodology. Index constituents are capped quarterly so that no more than 22.5% of the index weight may be allocated to a single constituent, and the sum of the weights of all constituents representing more than 4.5% of the index should not exceed 45% of the total index weight. For periods prior to March 24, 2025, the index was uncapped. Lending securities to earn income for the fund. The fund may operate as a non-diversified fund, as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act), to the approximate extent the Index is non-diversified. The fund may therefore operate as non-diversified solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the Index.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with the volatility of large-cap stocks and value-style investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Russell 1000 Value Index is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the large-cap value segment of the US equity market. It includes those Russell 1000 Index companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower expected growth rates. Effective March 24, 2025, the index applies a capping methodology. Index constituents are capped quarterly so that no more than 22.5% of the index weight may be allocated to a single constituent, and the sum of the weights of all constituents representing more than 4.5% of the index should not exceed 45% of the total index weight. For periods prior to March 24, 2025, the index was uncapped.

Fidelity® Leveraged Company Stock Fund

VRS Code: 000122

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in stocks of leveraged companies. Leveraged companies are companies that issue long-term debt (i.e., debt with a repayment period of greater than one year). Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks of companies that issue lower- and medium-quality debt. Potentially investing in lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Leverage can magnify the impact of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments on a company. In the event of bankruptcy, a company's creditors take precedence over the company's stockholders. Although the companies that the fund invests in may be highly leveraged, the fund itself does not use leverage as an investment strategy.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Limited Term Government Fund

VRS Code: 000662

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.3% as of 01/29/2026

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income in a manner consistent with preserving principal.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in U.S. Government securities and repurchase agreements for those securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Government Bond Index. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity between two and five years. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Government Bond Index is a market value-weighted index of U.S. Government fixed-rate debt issues with maturities between one and five years.

Fidelity® Long-Term Treasury Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 003047

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.03% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. Long Treasury Index. The index is a market value-weighted index of investment-grade fixed-rate public obligations of the U.S. Treasury with maturities of ten years or more. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of 10 years or more, consistent with that of the index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. Long Treasury Bond Index using a smaller number of securities.

Fund Risk: Bond funds contain interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall); the risk of issuer default; and inflation risk. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio but who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg Long-Term Treasury Index is an unmanaged index comprised of fixed-income securities with various maturities greater than 10 years. Unless otherwise noted, index returns reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any, but do not reflect fees, brokerage commissions or other expenses of investing. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.
- Returns prior to October 4, 2017 are those of the Premium Class and reflect the Premium Class' expense ratio. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Low-Priced Stock Fund*VRS Code: 000316Gross Expense Ratio: 0.87% as of 09/29/2025Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in low-priced stocks (those priced at or below $35 per share or with an earnings yield at or above the median for the Russell 2000 Index), which can lead to investments in small and medium-sized companies. Earnings yield represents a stock's earnings per share for the most recent 12-months divided by current price per share. Potentially investing in stocks not considered low-priced. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment that invests in both domestic and international markets.
- Someone who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets and the generally higher degree of risk associated with international investments.

Fidelity® Mid Cap Growth Index Fund

VRS Code: 003403

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.05% as of 08/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of mid-capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell Midcap Growth Index, which is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the mid-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity market. Effective March 24, 2025, the Russell Midcap Growth Index applies a capping methodology. Index constituents are capped quarterly so that no more than 22.5% of the index weight may be allocated to a single constituent, and the sum of the weights of all constituents representing more than 4.5% of the index should not exceed 45% of the total index weight. For periods prior to March 24, 2025, the index was uncapped. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings (P/E) ratio, price/book (P/B) ratio, and earnings growth to attempt to replicate the returns of the Russell Midcap Growth Index using a smaller number of securities. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well known companies. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Securities lending involves the risk that the borrower may fail to return the securities loaned in a timely manner or at all. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Mid Cap Value Fund

VRS Code: 000762

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.83% as of 04/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of value companies with medium market capitalizations. The Adviser generally defines medium market capitalization companies as those whose market capitalization is similar to the market capitalization of companies in the Russell Midcap Index or the S&P MidCap 400 Index. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Potentially investing in companies with smaller or larger market capitalizations. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. ## Fidelity® Mortgage Securities Fund

VRS Code: 000040

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income, consistent with prudent investment risk. In seeking current income, the fund may also consider the potential for capital gain.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in investment-grade mortgage-related securities (those of medium and high quality) and repurchase agreements for those securities. Investing in U.S. Government securities and instruments related to U.S. Government securities. Investing in U.S. Government securities issued by entities that are chartered or sponsored by Congress but whose securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. MBS Index. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Investing in lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's Central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Mortgage securities are subject to prepayment risk, which can limit gains due to declining interest rates, and increase losses due to rising rates. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a potentially more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Multi-Asset Index Fund*VRS Code: 000355Gross Expense Ratio: 0.13% as of 04/29/2025Fund Objective: Seeks high total return.

Fund Strategy: Investing in a combination of seven Fidelity stock and bond index funds (underlying Fidelity funds) using an asset allocation strategy designed for investors seeking a broadly diversified, index-based investment. The Fidelity Multi-Asset Index Fund currently may invest in four Fidelity stock index funds (U.S. and international) and three Fidelity bond index funds (U.S. investment grade, U.S. long-term treasury, and international)) to achieve the fund's desired asset allocation.

Fund Risk: Many factors affect Multi-Asset Index's performance. Multi-Asset Index's share price changes daily based on the performance of the underlying Fidelity funds in which it invests. The ability of Multi-Asset Index to meet its investment objective is directly related to its target asset allocation among the underlying Fidelity funds and the ability of those funds to meet their investment objectives. The following factors can significantly affect Multi-Asset Index's performance: stock market volatility, interest rate change, foreign exposure including exposure to emerging markets, prepayment, issuer specific changes, mid cap investing and small cap investing.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both domestic and international stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the potentially greater volatility of the foreign bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® NASDAQ Composite Index® Fund*VRS Code: 001282Gross Expense Ratio: 0.29% as of 01/29/2026Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment returns that closely correspond to the price and yield performance of the Nasdaq Composite Index.

Fund Strategy: Using statistical sampling techniques that take into account such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings (P/E) ratio, price/book (P/B) ratio, and earnings growth to create a portfolio of securities listed in the index that have a similar investment profile to the entire index. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities common stocks included in the Nasdaq Composite Index. The Nasdaq Composite Index is a widely recognized, market capitalization-weighted index that is designed to represent the performance of Nasdaq securities and includes approximately 3,000 stocks. Lending securities to earn income for the fund. The fund may operate as a non-diversified fund, as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act), to the approximate extent the index is non-diversified. The fund may therefore operate as non-diversified solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the index.

Fund Risk: Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The performance of the fund and the Index may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from the Index.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of the National Market System which includes over 5,000 stocks traded only over-the-counter and not on an exchange.

Fidelity® Natural Resources Fund*VRS Code: 000514Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies that own or develop natural resources, or supply goods and services to such companies. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The natural resources industries can be significantly affected by events relating to international political and economic developments, energy conservation, the success of exploration projects, commodity prices, and tax and other government regulations.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® New Markets Income Fund*VRS Code: 000331Gross Expense Ratio: 0.76% as of 03/01/2025Fund Objective: Seeks high current income. As a secondary objective, the fund seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets. Normally investing primarily in debt securities of issues in emerging markets. Potentially investing in other types of securities, including equity securities of emerging market issuers, debt securities of non-emerging market foreign issuers, and lower quality debt securities of U.S. issuers.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with international bond investments and who can tolerate the greater risks associated with foreign investments.

Fidelity® New Millennium Fund®

VRS Code: 000300

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.76% as of 01/29/2026

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Identifying early signs of long-term changes in the marketplace and focusing on those companies that may benefit from opportunities created by these changes by examining technological advances, product innovation, economic plans, demographics, social attitudes, and other factors, which can lead to investments in small and medium-sized companies. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Nordic Fund

VRS Code: 000342

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.86% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of Danish, Finnish, Norwegian, and Swedish issuers and other investments that are tied economically to the Nordic region. Investing up to 35% of total assets in any industry that accounts for more than 20% of the Nordic market. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The risks are particularly significant for funds that focus on a single country or region.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment that invests in both domestic and international markets.
- Someone who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets and the generally higher degree of risk associated with international investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

---

Fidelity® OTC Portfolio

VRS Code: 000093

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.73% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities principally traded on NASDAQ or an over-the-counter market, which has more small and medium-sized companies than other markets. Investing more than 25% of total assets in the technology sector. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The technology industries can be significantly affected by obsolescence of existing technology, short product cycles, falling prices and profits, and competition from new markets, and general economic conditions. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Pacific Basin Fund

VRS Code: 000302

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.98% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital over the long-term.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of Pacific Basin issuers and other investments that are tied economically to the Pacific Basin. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. The risks are particularly significant for funds that focus on a single country or region.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with an international investment focused on a specific country or region.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with concentrated investments in a specific country or region.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

---

Fidelity® Puritan® Fund

VRS Code: 000004

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.47% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks income and capital growth consistent with reasonable risk.

Fund Strategy: Investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Investing at least 25% of total assets in fixed-income senior securities (including debt securities and preferred stock). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Real Estate Income Fund

VRS Code: 000833

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.66% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks higher than average income. As a secondary objective, the fund also seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets debt and income-producing equity securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in preferred and common stocks of real estate investment trusts (REITs); debt securities of real estate entities; and commercial and other mortgage-backed securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Real Estate Index Fund

VRS Code: 002355

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.07% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of equity REITs and other real estate-related investments.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI US IMI Real Estate 25/25 Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The MSCI US IMI Real Estate 25/25 Index measures U.S. publicly traded real estate securities. It screens for market cap, liquidity and percentage of revenue derived from ownership and operation of real estate securities. It is float-adjusted market cap weighted. It is quoted in USD.

Fidelity® Real Estate Investment Portfolio

VRS Code: 000303

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.64% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks above-average income and long-term capital growth, consistent with reasonable investment risk. The fund seeks to provide a yield that exceeds the composite yield of the S&P 500 Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Select Automotive Portfolio

VRS Code: 000502

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.78% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the manufacture, marketing or sale of automobiles, trucks, specialty vehicles, parts, tires, and related services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations.

Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The automotive industry is highly cyclical and can be significantly affected by labor relations and fluctuating component prices.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Select Banking Portfolio

VRS Code: 000507

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.71% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in banking. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations.

Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The banking industry can be significantly affected by legislation that has reduced the separation between commercial and investment banking businesses, changed the laws governing capitalization requirements and the savings and loan industry, and increased competition. In addition, the banking industry can be significantly affected by changes in general economic conditions and interest rates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Select Biotechnology Portfolio

VRS Code: 000042

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.63% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the research, development, manufacture, and distribution of various biotechnological products, services, and processes and companies that benefit significantly from scientific and technological advances in biotechnology. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The biotechnology industry can be significantly affected by patent considerations, intense competition, rapid technological change and obsolescence, and government regulation, and revenue patterns can be erratic. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Select Brokerage and Investment Management Portfolio

VRS Code: 000068

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in stock brokerage, commodity brokerage, investment banking, tax-advantaged investment or investment sales, investment management, or related investment advisory services. The fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the exchange of financial instruments, stock brokerage, commodity brokerage, investment banking, tax-advantaged investment or investment sales, investment management, or related investment advisory and financial decision support services. These companies may include, for example, investment management firms; institutions providing custody services; investment banks; brokerage and asset management firms; financial exchanges for securities, commodities, derivatives and other financial instruments; and other financial institutions primarily engaged in capital markets including providers of financial decision support tools, products, and ratings.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The brokerage and investment management industry can be significantly affected by stock and bond market activity, changes in regulations, brokerage commission structure, and a competitive environment combined with the high operating leverage inherent in companies in this industry.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Select Chemicals Portfolio

VRS Code: 000069

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the research, development, manufacture or marketing of products or services related to the chemical process industries. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. ## Fidelity® Select Energy Portfolio

VRS Code: 000060

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.65% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies in the energy field, including the conventional areas of oil, gas, electricity and coal, and newer sources of energy such as nuclear, geothermal, oil shale and solar power. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The energy industries can be significantly affected by fluctuations in energy prices and supply and demand of energy fuels, energy conservation, the success of exploration projects, and tax and other government regulations. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Select Enterprise Technology Services Portfolio

VRS Code: 000353

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.66% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in providing enterprise technology services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The enterprise technology services industry can be significantly affected by competitive pressures, such as technological developments, fixed-rate pricing, and the ability to attract and retain skilled employees, and the success of companies in the industry is subject to continued demand for enterprise technology services.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Financials Portfolio

VRS Code: 000066

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies that provide financial services to consumers and industry. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The financials industries are subject to extensive government regulation, can be subject to relatively rapid change due to increasingly blurred distinctions between service segments, and can be significantly affected by availability and cost of capital funds, changes in interest rates, the rate of corporate and consumer debt defaults, and price competition. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.

Fidelity® Select FinTech Portfolio

VRS Code: 000098

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.75% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies providing products and services associated with fintech. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The fintech industry can be significantly affected by government regulations, technological innovation and development, competition from established financial companies and other fintech companies, economic conditions, and disruptions in credit markets. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

The fund's historical performance may not represent its current investment policies.

Fidelity® Select Gold Portfolio

VRS Code: 000041

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.68% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in exploration, mining, processing, or dealing in gold, or to a lesser degree, in silver, platinum, diamonds, or other precious metals and minerals. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in gold-related activities, and in gold bullion or coins. Potentially investing in other precious metals, instruments whose value is linked to the price of precious metals, and securities of companies that manufacture and distribute precious metal and mineral products (such as jewelry, watches, and metal foil and leaf) and companies that invest in other companies engaged in gold and other precious metal and mineral-related activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The gold industry can be significantly affected by international monetary and political developments such as currency devaluations or revaluations, central bank movements, economic and social conditions within a country, trade imbalances, or trade or currency restrictions between countries, as well as supply and demand for gold and operational costs associated with mining. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Health Care Portfolio

VRS Code: 000063

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.63% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the design, manufacture, or sale of products or services used for or in connection with health care or medicine. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The health care industries are subject to government regulation and reimbursement rates, as well as government approval of products and services, which could have a significant effect on price and availability, and can be significantly affected by rapid obsolescence and patent expirations. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.

Fidelity® Select Health Care Services Portfolio

VRS Code: 000505

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.67% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the ownership or management of hospitals, nursing homes, health maintenance organizations, and other companies specializing in the delivery of health care services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The medical delivery industry is subject to extensive government regulation and can be significantly affected by government reimbursement for medical expenses, rising costs of medical products and services, pricing pressure, and an increased emphasis on outpatient services.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Insurance Portfolio

VRS Code: 000045

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in underwriting, reinsuring, selling, distributing, or placing of property and casualty, life, or health insurance. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. The insurance industry is subject to extensive government regulation and can be significantly affected by interest rates, general economic conditions, and price and marketing competition. Different segments of the industry can be significantly affected by natural disasters, mortality and morbidity rates, and environmental clean-up.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Materials Portfolio

VRS Code: 000509

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.7% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the manufacture, mining, processing, or distribution of raw materials and intermediate goods. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The materials industries can be significantly affected by the level and volatility of commodity prices, the exchange value of the dollar, import and export controls, worldwide competition, liability for environmental damage, depletion of resources, and mandated expenditures for safety and pollution control. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fidelity® Select Technology Portfolio

VRS Code: 000064

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.62% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies which FMR believes have, or will develop, products, processes or services that will provide or will benefit significantly from technological advances and improvements. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The technology industries can be significantly affected by obsolescence of existing technology, short product cycles, falling prices and profits, competition from new market entrants, and general economic conditions. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Fidelity® Select Transportation Portfolio

VRS Code: 000512

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.69% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in providing transportation services or companies engaged in the design, manufacture, distribution, or sale of transportation equipment. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The transportation industry can be significantly affected by changes in the economy, fuel prices, labor relations, insurance costs, and government regulation.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Utilities Portfolio

VRS Code: 000065

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.66% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies in the utilities industry and companies deriving a majority of their revenues from their utility operations. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities, generally emphasizing power and gas utilities and not telephone companies and telecommunications utilities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The utilities industries can be significantly affected by government regulation, financing difficulties, supply and demand of services or fuel, and natural resource conservation.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Wireless Portfolio*VRS Code: 000963Gross Expense Ratio: 0.71% as of 04/29/2025Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in activities relating to wireless communications services or products. Normally investing at least 80% assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The wireless industry can be significantly affected by failure or delays in obtaining financing or regulatory approval, intense competition, product incompatibility, changing consumer preferences, rapid obsolescence, significant capital expenditures, and heavy debt burdens.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Short-Term Bond Fund*VRS Code: 000450Gross Expense Ratio: 0.3% as of 10/30/2025Fund Objective: Seeks to obtain a high level of current income consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in investment-grade debt securities (those of medium and high quality) of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. 1-3 Year Government/Credit Bond Index. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity between three years or less. Allocating assets across different market sectors and maturities. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's Central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: Bond funds entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- The Bloomberg U.S. 1-3 Year Government/Credit Bond Index is an unmanaged market value-weighted index for government and corporate fixed-rate debt issues with maturities between one and three years. Government and corporate issues include all public obligations of the U.S. Treasury (excluding flower bonds and foreign-targeted issues) and U.S. Government agencies, as well as nonconvertible investment-grade, SEC-registered corporate debt.

Fidelity® Short-Term Bond Index Fund*VRS Code: 003041Gross Expense Ratio: 0.03% as of 10/30/2025Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Government/Credit Bond Index, a market value-weighted index of fixed-rate investment-grade debt securities with maturities from one to five years from the U.S. Treasury, U.S. Government-Related, and U.S. Corporate Indexes. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of three years or less, consistent with that of the index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Government/Credit Bond Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.

Fidelity® Short-Term Treasury Bond Index Fund*VRS Code: 003049Gross Expense Ratio: 0.03% as of 04/29/2025Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income in a manner consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg 1-5 Year U.S. Treasury Index. The index is a market value-weighted index of investment-grade fixed-rate public obligations of the U.S. Treasury with maturities between one and five years. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of three years or less, consistent with that of the index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Treasury Bond Index using a smaller number of securities.

Fidelity® Small Cap Growth Fund

VRS Code: 001388

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.88% as of 09/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of growth companies with small market capitalizations. The Adviser generally defines small market capitalization companies as those whose market capitalization is similar to the market capitalization of companies in the Russell 2000 Index or the S&P SmallCap 600 Index. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. 'Growth' stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Fidelity® Stock Selector Small Cap Fund*VRS Code: 000336Gross Expense Ratio: 0.85% as of 12/30/2025Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies with small market capitalizations (companies with market capitalizations similar to companies in the Russell 2000 Index or the S&P SmallCap 600). Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fidelity® Strategic Dividend & Income® Fund*VRS Code: 001329Gross Expense Ratio: 0.62% as of 01/29/2026Fund Objective: Seeks reasonable income. The fund will also consider the potential for capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in a combination of equity securities that pay current dividends and income-producing equity securities. Allocating the fund's assets among four general investment categories: common stocks, REITs and other real estate related investments, convertible securities, and preferred stocks. The fund uses a neutral mix of approximately 50% common stocks, 15% REITs and other real estate related investments, 15% convertible securities, and 20% preferred stocks. Investing the fund's assets with a focus on equity securities that pay current dividends and show potential for capital appreciation, which tends to lead to investments in "value" stocks in the common stock category. Potentially investing in other types of equity securities and debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Fidelity® Strategic Income Fund*VRS Code: 003082Gross Expense Ratio: 0.65% as of 03/01/2025Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income. The fund may also seek capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in a combination of debt securities and income-producing equity securities. Investing primarily in debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Allocating assets among four general investment categories: high yield securities, U.S. Government and investment-grade securities, emerging market securities, and foreign developed market securities. Using a neutral mix of approximately 45% high yield, 30% U.S. Government and investment-grade, 15% emerging markets, and 10% foreign developed markets. Analyzing a security's structural features and current pricing, its issuer's potential for success, and the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer to select investments. Hedging the fund's foreign currency exposures utilizing forward foreign currency exchange contracts although not all of the fund's foreign currency exposure will be hedged. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Although a forward foreign currency exchange contract is used to reduce or hedge a fund's exposure to changes in the value of the currency, suitable hedging transactions may not be available, may not be successful, and may eliminate any benefits to the fund from favorable foreign currency fluctuations. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone looking for a fund investing in a mix of bonds that range from conservative to high risk and who can tolerate the risks associated with fixed-income investments.

Fidelity® Strategic Real Return Fund

VRS Code: 001505

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.77% as of 11/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks real return consistent with reasonable investment risk.

Fund Strategy: Allocating the fund's assets among four general investment categories, using a neutral mix of approximately 25% inflation-protected debt securities, 25% floating-rate loans, 30% commodity-linked derivative instruments and related investments, and 20% REITs and other real estate related investments. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing a security's structural features and current pricing, its issuer's potential for success, and the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer to select investments. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: Stock markets, particularly foreign markets, are volatile and can be affected by adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Floating rate loans may not be fully collateralized and therefore may decline significantly in value. A floating rate loan may not be fully collateralized which may cause the loan to decline significantly in value. A floating rate loan is generally subject to restrictions on resale. Difficulty in selling a floating rate loan may result in a loss. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Increases in real interest rates can cause the price of inflation-protected debt securities to decrease. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Commodity-linked investments can be more volatile and less liquid than the underlying instruments or measures and their value may be affected by the performance of the overall commodities baskets as well as weather, tax, and other regulatory developments. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risks. Passive Management Risk. A passive investment strategy attempts to track the performance of an unmanaged index of securities, regardless of the current or projected performance of the index or of the actual securities included in the index. This differs from an actively managed strategy, which typically seeks to outperform a benchmark index. As a result, the performance could be lower than actively managed strategies that may shift their portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Fidelity is reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® Sustainability Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 003086

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.1% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg MSCI U.S. Aggregate ESG Choice Bond Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg MSCI U.S. Aggregate ESG Choice Bond Index, which is composed of U.S. dollar denominated, investment-grade fixed-rate debt issues, including government, corporate, asset-backed, and mortgage-backed securities, and follows the rules of the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. MSCI ESG Research applies additional sector and ESG criteria for security eligibility in the index and adjusts the sector weights of the index to match the exposures of the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Companies showing involvement above certain thresholds in adult entertainment, alcohol, gambling, tobacco, military weapons, civilian firearms, nuclear power, and genetically modified organisms are excluded. The index is rebalanced monthly. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg MSCI U.S. Aggregate ESG Choice Bond Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Application of an environmental, social, and governance (ESG) ratings process and/or a sustainable investing exclusion criterion may affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, sectors, regions, and countries and may affect the fund's performance. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg MSCI U.S. Aggregate ESG Choice Bond Index uses a rules-based methodology to identify a portfolio of securities that adhere to predetermined ESG criteria. The index is composed of U.S. government securities, debt securities issued by U.S. corporations, residential and commercial mortgage-backed securities, asset-based securities and U.S. dollar-denominated debt securities issued by non-U.S. governments and corporations.
- Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.

Fidelity® Telecom and Utilities Fund

VRS Code: 000311

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.73% as of 04/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in debt and income-producing equity securities of issuers located in emerging markets or economically tied to emerging markets. Investing up to 20% of the fund's net assets in securities that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - to adjust the fund's risk exposure - as well as forward foreign currency exchange contracts for both hedging and non-hedging purposes. Normally investing primarily in debt securities of issues in emerging markets. Potentially investing in other types of securities, including equity securities of emerging market issuers, debt securities of non-emerging market foreign issuers, and lower quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds) of U.S. issuers. Allocating investments across different emerging markets countries. Analyzing a security's structural features and current pricing, trading opportunities, and the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The telecommunications services and utilities industries can be significantly affected by government regulation, technology changes, intense competition, financing difficulties, supply and demand of services or of fuel, and natural resource conservation. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Total Bond Fund

VRS Code: 000820

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in debt securities of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Allocating assets across investment-grade, high yield, and emerging market debt securities. Emerging markets include countries that have an emerging stock market as defined by MSCI, countries or markets with low- to middle-income economies as classified by the World Bank, and other countries or markets that the Adviser identifies as having similar emerging markets characteristics. Investing up to 20% of assets in lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Allocating assets across different asset classes, market sectors, and maturities. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, the issuer's potential for success, the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fidelity® Total International Equity Fund

VRS Code: 001978

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.91% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities, including securities of issuers located in emerging markets. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Fidelity® Total International Index Fund

VRS Code: 002834

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.06% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of foreign developed and emerging stock markets.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) ex USA Investable Market Index and in depository receipts representing securities included in the index. The MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) ex USA Investable Market Index is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the investable equity market performance for global investors of large, mid, and small-cap stocks in developed and emerging markets, excluding the U.S. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings (P/E) ratio, price/book (P/B) ratio, earnings growth, country weightings, and the effect of foreign taxes to attempt to replicate the returns of the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) ex USA Investable Market Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The MSCI ACWI ex-US Investable Market Index represents approximately 99% of the world's total market capitalization outside the US. The ACWI ex US IMI defines the non-US equity asset class and covers 22 developed markets and 22 emerging markets. The IMI (Investable Market Index) combines large, mid & small capitalization equity offerings and thus, provides the broadest international exposure available. The index is unmanaged and should not be considered an investment. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Fidelity® Total Market Index Fund

VRS Code: 002361

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.015% as of 04/29/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a broad range of United States stocks.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market Index, which represents the performance of a broad range of U.S. stocks. The fund may operate as a non-diversified fund, as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act), to the approximate extent the Index is non-diversified. The fund may therefore operate as non-diversified solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the Index.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of over 5,000 U.S. equity securities which contains all actively traded common stocks with readily available price data.
- Returns prior to September 8, 2011 are those of the Premium Class and reflect the Premium Class' expense ratio. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Treasury Only Money Market Fund

VRS Code: 000415

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.42% as of 06/28/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks as high a level of current income as is consistent with the security of principal and liquidity.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 99.5% of total assets in cash and U.S. Treasury securities. Normally investing in securities whose interest is exempt from state and local income taxes. Investing in compliance with industry standard regulatory requirements for money market funds for the quality, maturity, liquidity and diversification of investments. In addition, the Adviser normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in U.S. Treasury securities.

Fund Risk: You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not a bank account and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Fidelity Investments and its affiliates, the fund's sponsor, are not required to reimburse money market funds for losses, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time, including during periods of market stress. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer or a provider of credit support or a maturity-shortening structure for a security can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. Fidelity's government and U.S. Treasury money market funds will not impose a fee upon the sale of your shares.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Trend Fund

VRS Code: 000005

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.59% as of 03/01/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Investing in companies that FMR believes have above-average growth potential (stocks of these companies are often called "growth" stocks). Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of issuers tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 002326

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.025% as of 10/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. The Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index is a broad based, flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, mortgage-backed securities (agency fixed-rate pass-throughs), asset-backed securities and collateralized mortgage-backed securities (agency and non-agency). Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.11% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of the MSCI USA ESG Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI USA ESG Index, which represents the performance of stocks of large- to mid-capitalization U.S. companies with high environmental, social, and governance (ESG) performance relative to their sector peers, as rated by MSCI ESG Research. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings (P/E) ratio, price/book (P/B) ratio, and earnings growth to attempt to replicate the returns of the MSCI USA ESG Index using a smaller number of securities. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of medium sized, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Fidelity® Women's Leadership Fund

VRS Code: 003396

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.68% as of 06/28/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities of companies that prioritize and advance women's leadership and development. Such companies include those that (i) include a woman as a member of the senior management team, (ii) are governed by a board for which women represent at least one third of all directors, or (iii) in the Adviser's opinion, have adopted policies designed to attract, retain and promote women. Investing in securities of domestic and foreign issuers. Employing sustainable investing exclusion criteria to avoid investments in issuers that are directly engaged in, and/or derive significant revenue from, certain industries. At present, these include: civilian semi-automatic firearms; tobacco production, or bonds issued against the proceeds of tobacco settlements; for-profit prisons; controversial weapons (e.g. cluster munitions, land mines, biological/chemical weapons, blinding lasers, and incendiary weapons); and thermal coal production and/or mining.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Application of FMR's ESG ratings process and/or its sustainable investing exclusion criteria may affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, sectors, regions, and countries and may affect the fund's performance depending on whether certain investments are in or out of favor. This process may result in the fund forgoing opportunities to buy certain securities when it might otherwise be advantageous to do so, or selling securities for ESG reasons when it might be otherwise disadvantageous for it to do so. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The Adviser's applications of the fund's strategy criteria may not achieve its intended results and the fund could underperform the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Worldwide Fund

VRS Code: 000318

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.77% as of 12/30/2025

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Investing in securities issued anywhere in the world. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment that invests in both domestic and international markets.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and the generally higher degree of risk associated with international investments.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

A mutual fund expense ratio is the total annual fund or class operating expenses (before waivers or reimbursements) paid by the fund and stated as a percentage of the fund's total net assets. For other types of investments, the figure in the expense ratio field reflects similar information, but may have been calculated differently than for mutual funds. Mutual fund data comes from the fund's prospectus. For non-mutual fund investment options, the information has been provided by the plan sponsor, the investment option's manager, or the trustee. When no ratio is shown for these options, it is because none was available. There may be fees and expenses associated with the investment option. Expense information changes periodically. Please consult NetBenefits.com for updates.

This document provides only a summary of the main features of the Rabbis and Cantors Retirement Plan and the Plan Document will govern in the event of discrepancies.

The Plan is intended to be a participant-directed plan as described in Section 404(c) of ERISA, which means that fiduciaries of the Plan are ordinarily relieved of liability for any losses that are the direct and necessary result of investment instructions given by a participant or beneficiary.
